During 2006, the Inn received national media attention and accolades for its award-winning family oriented services, pet friendly accommodations, and as one of the most romantic spots on the Mendocino Coast. The Inn will be featured nationally this fall on the popular travel program "Great Escapes" which airs on The E Entertainment, Style and Outdoor Life Network channels. Forbes.com listed the Inn at Schoolhouse Creek in its 2006 list of 10 "Best places to take your children." Pet owners know the Inn as a recipient of the prestigious "Golden Bone" Award by The Dog Lover's Companion to California for being one of the best dog friendly destinations in America.

The Inn property's 19 rooms and cottages are nestled on nine acres of lush gardens, meadows and forested land providing a true escape from the stresses of daily life encouraging guests to enjoy "life without a schedule." Accommodations include luxury rooms, private cottages, private hot tubs, decks, fireplaces and free high speed wireless internet, Jacuzzi baths or Whirlpool tubs, ocean and garden views. Rates also include a full buffet breakfast (except offsite ocean Cliffside cottages), use of the inn's ocean view hot tub in the meadow with evening Alexander Valley wine and food pairings. Guests can enjoy spa services at the Inn and Innkeepers can make arrangements for picnics, special occasions, dinner reservations or arrangements for a wide variety of coast activities.

The Inn at Schoolhouse Creek is the oldest resort on the Mendocino stretch of the North Coast. Its opening coincided with the completion of the 'Shoreline Highway' in 1932, now Highway One. The workers moved turn-of-the-century mill workers houses onto the property. During World War II, the property was turned over to the US Coast Guard to house the shore patrol. Recent acquisitions and upgrades have brought the property to its current state.

Innkeepers Steven Musser and Maureen Gilbert are experts at what they lovingly call, "welcoming the world into our home...the Inn is a wonderful outlet for our skills, interests and creative talents." Guests boast about the peaceful experience, "Our journey to find that "just right" place has brought us to the Inn at Schoolhouse Creek. I think we have found the place. The view, the quiet (interrupted only by the buoy bell), intoxicating ocean smells, the birds, the trees, the flowers, and of course the food and extraordinary hosts – after a busy day in the metropolis of Mendocino it was so nice to come home to the glow of the fireplace and the warmth of our cottage."
